

HSE Management - Regulatory Assistance

Helping companies keep up with their compliance obligations in the European Union

BUSINESS CHALLENGE

Today companies operate in a fast-evolving industrial environment that is subject to strict European Commission control. Compliance is becoming a major issue. Regulations have now been put in place by the Commission regarding air quality, water and waste to name just a few, and there are more to come. In order to avoid potential litigation, each company must keep up to date on the latest laws and constantly monitor its compliance levels.

SOLUTION

What is Regulatory Assistance?

Regulatory Assistance is a service developed by Bureau Veritas to help companies monitor change in regulations and keep up with their obligations. Bureau Veritas has dedicated teams of experts throughout the world to monitor regulations by market, and to guide companies in their compliance performance. Specific services offered are Country Profile, Regulation Watch and Gap Analysis. Clients are kept constantly up to date on the market situation, their own specific performance and potential action required.

What are the key benefits?

- Avoid fines and litigation;
- Maintain constant awareness of HSE regulations for each of your countries of operation and each business line;
- Anticipate risk.

OUR APPROACH

Bureau Veritas is constantly updating its HSE regulation knowledge bank. All information is classed by country, to provide a comprehensive picture of the situation in any given market.

A dedicated team works with each client to find a tailor-made and relevant solution to its needs. First, experts analyze where the company may be failing to comply in areas such as air quality, waste, chemicals, hazardous materials and safety. If action is required, a proposal is then presented, detailing what should be done and how it can be done cost effectively.

Clients are kept fully informed on project progress at all times, through various forms of communication. This may include meetings, presentations, e-mails, intranet systems and newsletters.

FAQ

Should Regulatory Assistance issues be handled at a central or local level?

There is no right or wrong answer to this, and each company or organization can choose between the 3 different methods Bureau Veritas offers:

- Exclusive communication with the central corporate team;
- Direct communication with HSE teams in each market;
- Communication with the central corporate team on generic issues and local teams for more detailed issues.

Our teams can provide companies and organizations with advice to find out which method is right for them.
