HOW AND WHERE

CAN YOU USE YOUR CERTIFICATION MARK?

Your certification demonstrates the conformity of your management systems to relevant standards: it does not certify attributes of a specific product or service. For this reason, you must take care in your use of certification marks, never use a mark, or reference to your certification in a misleading way that suggests product or service certification or would imply that the certification applies to activities and sites that are outside the scope of certification.

DIGITAL COMMUNICATION DO'S AND DON'TS

DIGITAL COMMUNICATION PRESENTS ITS OWN SET OF CHALLENGES. WE PROVIDE ADDITIONAL RULES AND GUIDELINES TO HELP YOU GET IT RIGHT

USING THE CERTIFICATION MARK ON YOUR WEBSITE

Remember: your certification mark covers your management system, not your products. You may show a certification mark on a website page that shows a product manufactured at a certified site, however you may be required to add a product statement. For web pages showing multiple products, you must take care that ALL products shown on the page are manufactured by sites within your certified management system.

Responsive websites rearrange content on a page to aid readability. You must ensure that the responsive version of your website:

- ✓ Does not separate the logo from the product statement
- ✓ Ensures the certification mark retains its minimum height

Recommended size: on your website (desktop version) we recommend that the certification mark be 200 pixels wide (maximum 250 pixels).

REFERENCING YOUR BUREAU VERITAS CERTIFICATION ON SOCIAL MEDIA

Social media posts often need to be short – but you still need to avoid being misleading. When talking about your certification from Bureau Veritas, you must always refer to the specific management system standard and be precise:

- ✓ Our environmental management system is certified to ISO 14001 by Bureau Veritas
- ✗ Bureau Veritas has given our products the green stamp of approval!
